New York, Oct. 2 —Throughout the length and breadth of New Jersey the rumor has flown that Grover Cleve'and is anxious to become United States Senator from New Jersey.

If Mr. Cleveland succeeds in being sent to the Senate he will have followed the example set by John Quincy Adams, who became a representative in Congress after having been the nation's chief magistrate.

Mr. Cleveland returned to his stone house in Princeton but a short while ago. He was born in New Jersey, and it is said that for that very reason he wishes to serve the State before his career closes.

There are rumors afloat that Mr. Cleveland began the consideration of the Senatorial matter many years ago -in fact, before his last election. The purchase of the Princeton house was the first veiled move.

When Mr. Cleveland will begin open operations for the Senatorship is a matter of conjecture among Jerseymen. At present he is engaged in "praising up" the State, Princeton in particular, and is making friends hand over fist.

Johnson was accused of committing an assault upon Miss Emma Parish, the daughter of a former postmaster of Braden, and from the meagre information at, band, it appears that he was shortly afterwards captured by a mob, which had pursued him with 'blood' hounds since 10 o'clock in the morning.

THE TEMPLE CUP

Games For Its Possession to Begin in Boston To-morrow.

The Temple Cup games, which open in Boston to morrow, are all that is left of the base all season of 1897 in the East, although there will be games to ay in Louisville and St. Louis. The cup games have no official connection with the champlouship season, but are post-season

According to the stipulation of the donor of the cup, Mr. W. C. Temple, of Pittsburg, it is to played for by the two clubs finishing first and second, the series of games to consist of seven, unless one of games to consist of seven, unless one or the other club win four before the full seven is completed. The cup was given in 1894, when New York, the second place club, won from the champion Baltimores in four straight games. Cleveland which was second in '95, won it from Baltimore by taking four games to Baltimore's one. Last year, as is well known, the three-time champions beat Cleveland tour straight and got the cup for the first more's one. Last year, as is well known, the three-time champions beat Cleveland four straight and got the cup for the first time. The receipts are divided among the players, the victorious club getting 60 per cent of the profits.

Emslie and Hurst were yesterday selected as the umpires for the Temple Cup series. Mr. Hanlon, as has been customary, sent to Manager Selec a list of umpires that would be acceptable to the Baltimore club. He named Emslie, Hurst and O'Day, and Mr. Selec promptly agreed upon the first two.

It is a high, tribute to the ability of these men that each has been selected three times to umpire in these important games. In 1894 the umpires were Emslie and Hurst, in 1895 Keefe and Hurst, and last year it was Emslie and Sheridan.

Manager Hanlon is in New York to arrange for the exhibition game, which the Orioles are to play to-day in Hoboken for the henefit of the players. The team will leave early this morning, play in Hoboken in the afternoon and go on to Boston to night. The games in Boston will be played Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, October 4, 5 and 6. The first game in Baltimore will be played next Saturday, October 9, and the other two the following Monday and Tuesday if necessary. Should there, be a seventh game required to decide the question, it may be played in some other city.

GIVE THEM A SHOW.

Too Many "Regulations" Directed Toward the Wheelmen.

There are about eight hundred biyclists in Roanoke—perhaps more, certainly no less. They ride from early morning until late at niggt. Theirwheels are taxed and are their own property as far as outsiders know or care, yet they are continually made the butt of, what many of them are pleased to call "busy-bodied legislation." One thing after another is put up and attempted to be palmed off upon them, until very soon they may expect to be ordered to carry their machines on their backs to prevent accident to some poor diminutive four horse wagon, or a delicate little sprinkling cart. And now the edict has gone forth that bicycle lamps must be lighted at six o'clock. Why not light them at 12 o'clock—or why put them out at all' Men who ride to their work at dinner time must carry their lamps with them or run the risk of being arrested on their way home. Are there any privileges given to wheelmen in Roanoke? Do the grocery wagons that race out Jefferson two, and sometimes three, abreast carry way nome. Are there any privileges given to wheelmen in Roanoke? Do the grocery wagons that race out Jefferson two, and sometimes three, abreast carry lamps or do they even turn out one-fittieth part of an inch for a wheelman? Are the street railway tracks ever made level with the streets for wheelmen's benefit, or for snybody's else? Are any rocks picked up from the highway, or gutter crossings repaired, or glass bottles or wire removed by our vigilance committee that is so earnestly and solicitously chasing bicyclists out of the pleasure there is to be gotten from their wheels, while the "mounted police" are allowed to risk running into anything and anybody at any time of the night without so much as a 'lamp to give warning? Is there any small 'boy, young man, old man, old woman, or small girl in our city who rides at all who can not outride any policegan on the force or me my better. who rides at all who can not outride any policeman on the force or are not better able to take care of themselves? Let the policeman on the force or are not better able to take care of themselves? Let the wheelmen alone and stop fast driving, impudent, insolent drivers, both white and colored, fast street cars that sound like steam saw mills, sprinkling carts that make the streets almost impassable with mud. Stop the gang of boys, who intest the street corners, from throwing stones and using obscene language, and stop stray cows from depredating on the property of people who own no cows. Abate the dog nuisance and side walk obstructions Fix that miserable, disoraceful street leading to the postoflice and let the wheelmen of Roanoke attend to their own wants. It has been suggested, and it is worthy of consideration, that the wheelmen of Roanoke hold a mass meeting. A call issued to this effect would meet with hearty response. An organization of this kind, with duly elected officers, would be no insignificant power in the manipulation of city affairs, and eight hundred or even five hundred voices would of an targettin. and eight hundred or even five hundred voices would go far toward protection from imposition, at least. Is it not a Complaint is being made about the school at the corner of Salem avenue and Ronnoke street. It will be remembered that when the question of the purchase of the building now occupied by the school came up we entered a vigorous protest and it would seem that our objections were not altogether groundless. As far as the school itself is concerned there is no complaint whatever, but patrons are dissatisfied with the hours kept. The chief trouble appears to be with the recess. It is thought to be too short to enable the children to go home to their dinners and entirely too long for them to play in a portion of the city which is so especially unsuitable for a play ground. Parents, many of them, are not in a position to make extra dishes for their children's lunches. It is an extra expense, and at the same time they are not willing to have them rush home for them. The surroundings of this building are bad. The building itself is bad, and so poorly adapted for a school that should there ever be a fire during study hours loss of life would follow almost certainly. It is the wish of patrons that their children be safe. They are not so, and in the recess now given them they are compelled to play, if they play at all, in a street in a dangerous locality, or rush home and run the risk of choking themselves with hastily swallc wed food while overheated. It would be well to look into the matter at any rate. "TRAMP."

CAUGHT THE EXPERT.

Thigh Bone of a Gorilla Mistaken tor a Man's.

Chicago, Oct. 2.—Through a mass of scientific terms, metrical measurements and bones almost without number, the Luetgert trial dragged through the weary hours to-day with Expert, W. H. Alport on the stand undergoing a fire of cross questions from Mr. McEwen.

The triumph of the day was when Alport succeeded in identifying the thigh bone of a gerilla, brought from the Field Columbian Museum, as the femur of a homo. This caused great glee among the State's experts and attorneys, but on the whole Dr. Alpore has made a strong impression. His cross-examination was concluded this afternoon.
